Important note: Meaning of Acclimatization- The major cause of altitude illnesses is going too high too fast. Given time, your body can adapt to the decrease in oxygen molecules at a specific altitude. This process is known as acclimatization and generally takes 1-3 days at that altitude. For example, if you hike to 10,000 feet (3,048 meters), and spend several days at that altitude, your body acclimatizes to 10,000 feet (3,048 meters). If you climb to 12,000 feet (3,658 meters), your body has to acclimatize once again. The depth of respiration increases. The lodges and guest houses in Gyirong are very simple and ordinary. Do: Travelling and enjoy the Beauty of Nature Accomodation:Guest House/ Lodge on Sharing Basis

kmynepal@gmail.com

After Breakfast, we will proceed for Lake Mansarovar, which is on altitude of 4700 Metre, 300 km away from Zongba, journey duration is approx 8 hours. The Holy lake is relatively round in shape with the circumference of 88 kilometres on the Kora path (circumambulation path) and 320 square kilometers in total where the deepest point is 90 meter in the center part. Historically, the lake became holy in Tibetan society because mother of Lord Buddha took by gods to take a bath in the lake until all the sins washed away and purified the body totally, where she saw a white elephant running around the holy mountain (Kailash) as a significant that Buddha was in her womb. Pilgrims walking around the holy lake takes four-five days to make up one full circumambulation, the reason for that they prefer to wash out all the sins and have some good fortunes in their life. As per Hindu scriptures, Lake Manas Sarovar is a personification of purity, and one who drinks water from the lake will go to the Abode of Lord Shiva after death. He is believed to be cleansed of all his/her sins committed over even a hundred lifetimes. Check in to Guest House/ Lodge on Sharing Basis.
